Ethical Orientations for Collegiality, Mentoring, and Teaching

WORKSHOP LED BY

DR. KORITHA MITCHELL
A professional development expert who centers equity and justice

FRIDAY MAY 6, 2022
10:00am-12:30pm PDT
Virtual-Zoom Webinar
Not recorded

About the Workshop

When Americans aren’t ignoring inequities altogether, we focus on cultivating empathy for other people’s hardships. Unfortunately, this approach only reinforces the status quo. In contrast, this workshop helps attendees see that changing our environments requires a laser focus on unearned advantages. Too often, people in dominant identity categories assume they are good and decent without reference to actual standards. However, operating ethically as a colleague, mentor, or teacher requires holding oneself to objective standards, not simply assuming you’re good at your job because no one has compelled you to do it better.

OPEN TO ALL CALTECH COMMUNITY MEMBERS

Faculty, staff, lecturers, visiting lecturers, postdoctoral scholars and instructors, graduate students, and undergraduate students

RSVP for the Workshop through the following link:
https://hsscaltech.wufoo.com/forms/ethical-orientations

For questions or accommodations, contact Cecilia Lu at cecilial@caltech.edu

This workshop is cosponsored by CCID and the DEI committees of BBE, CCE, EAS, GPS and HSS